HIS PRESI'S VOICE

Those of you who missed the English Theatre Group's performance of "Working" at the Lorzensaal in Cham have only got yourselves to blame - it was truly outstanding. Two of our members, Bruce Mathers and Patrick Sequeira were among the stars of a show which, without exaggeration, was one of the best I have seen - amateur or professional - in many a year. The Theatre Group deserves much more support than it gets. These people really put on a terrific show by anyone's standards.

As indeed does our Membership Secretary and NEWS editor, David Harris, who has been strictly forbidden from editing this particular column. The IMCZ Directory, which cost David countless hours of work, arrived just after publication of the last NEWS, so I didn't get a chance to say thank you. Let me correct that right now - many thanks David, for a Directory which was researched, computerised, printed, copied, bound and despatched in so much valuable free time voluntarily dedicated to the IMCZ. A great effort! Now, gentlemen, USE IT! The Directory is your key to all your colleagues in the Club and their businesses. By exchanging products and services among ourselves, we can only win. Many thanks also to all our advertisers, who generously helped David produce a Directory which was to a large extent self-financing. Thank you all for your help and support.

It's just a few days early to talk about the trip to Lego (we'll report on that next time), but it's not too early to invite you all to our traditional barbecue at Sibrisboden, which has always been one of the highlights of an IMCZ year. I hope very much to see you all there, together with partners-in-life.

Until then, here's wishing you a wonderful start to the summer.

Best regards

Tony Button

USA MOTOR VEHICLE STATISTICS

Following are the latest available figures from the USA concerning motor vehicles. The figures are given as an average for the whole of America and cover only vehicles registered for use on the road..

Motor vehicles per 1000 population	746
Licensed drivers per 1000 population	679
Licensed drivers per registered vehicle	0.91
Gallons fuel used per vehicle	16.85
Miles per gallon	16.85
Annual miles driven per vehicle	11,766
Vehicle miles per licensed driver	12,938

The state with the lowest annual mileage per vehicle is Alaska at 7,902 and with the highest Arkansas at 15,372.

The state registering the lowest miles per gallon is Nevada at just 13.11 and the highest is Hawaii at 20.33.

Units of measurement are US.

CROWDS

A typical 80,000 crowd at Wembley Stadium weighs 5,080 tonnes and breathes 50.4 million litres of air during the course of a 90 minute football match.

Beijing's 98 acre Tiananmen Square can hold approx. one million people. By comparison Britain's 3.7 acre Trafalgar Square can only hold about 90,000.

VERY ODD

In Pennsylvania, USA, a man was recently sentenced to 24 years imprisonment for armed robbery. He and his accomplice had not worn masks when holding up a bank - instead they had rubbed lemon juice on their faces in the mistaken belief that it would blur their image on security cameras.
