SELEGER MOOR

How to get there and Etc

How to get there. Finding Seleger Moor is incredibly easy. From Baar, drive direction Hausen-am-Albis and then follow the signs for Seleger Moor. Close to the actual site you will find IMCZ signs directing you. Parking is no problem.

Etc. On a recent visit to Seleger Moor your editor was privileged to see a very special coloured rhododendron, in a beautiful deep red, in remembrance of the late Mr Seleger.

Observed on the same visit was our very own Board member, Roland DEUNNER, with a truck load of signs, in latin, as he went around identifying seemingly hundreds of plants and trees in the park—most impressive.

You will be forgiven in thinking that we moved the date of the Seleger Moor visit from the 16 to the 15 May—we did, as we found it clashed with a major event of our sister Club, the ZIWC.

BLOND JOKE

(sorry ladies—it is only a joke)

A blond lady walks into a doctors surgery and complains that she hurts all over. 'Impossible' said the Dr. She replied 'Seriously Dr, look where ever I touch myself it hurts?' And she prodded her arms, her legs, her head and her chest. The Dr shakes his head and says 'You're a natural blond aren't you?' She said 'Yes, but how did you know?'. The Dr replied 'Because your finger is broken'.

BRAUERIE BAAR

Our sincere thanks to Kurt and Martin USTER for an exceptionally interesting tour of the brewery on Thursday 5 April.

We learnt that the brauerei will next year celebrate 100 years with the same family, quite an achievement.

After the tour, at dinner, members were able to sample the various 'beers' produced by the Brauerei.

Apologies

Your editor wishes to apologise for trying hard to change the name of Kurts son from Martin to Clive to such an extent that even Kurt was becoming confused.

ENGLISH THEATRE GROUP OF ZUG

According to the latest issue of 'Spotlight', the Theatre Group NEWS, there are currently no plans for a production this year.

ANCIENT TRADITION HERALDS SPRING

Zürich streets closed down on the afternoon of April 23 to celebrate the 'Six o'clock bells' (Sechse) - the city's most traditional festival.

Hundreds of traditionally dressed guild members (tradesmen and craftsman) paraded through the streets on horseback giving out sausages and pastry treats. The parade arrived at a large field and galloped round a giant bonfire on top of which stood a huge snowman. At 6 o'clock the 'bögg' was fired.

According to tradition the faster the snowmans head explodes, the better will be the summer

RAPPORT IN BUSINESS

On Tuesday 6 June 2001, the ZIWC BF are running a workshop, at the Casino, entitled 'RAPPORT IN BUSINESS'. The NLP guest speaker and Workshop Leader will be Richard de LAAT.

Rapport is a vital aspect of every day business relationship, and Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP) has taken the abstract word and put it back into the process, that can be applied by anyone. This means that in any relationship you can choose how fast you want to be in rapport.

Registration details will be given with the June IMCZ NEWS. If you wish to pre-register then call Michele A Cueni 041-780 65 84 (e-mail: cueni.m@bluewin.ch

MOVING HOME TO OR FROM THE UK

Moving home is always traumatic, more so if the move is overseas with the big question of who to select as the removal agency. It is not our policy here to make a recommendation—but we will mention that we have recently received information from LUKER BROS (Removals & Storage) Ltd of Oxford, UK.

If you are moving from CH to the UK then it might be worth your time to call Mr MJ Elbro, direct on 01865 740714, E-Mail melbro@lukerbros.com. If you are moving in the opposite direction then the same number will redirect you. And do mention the International Men's Club of Zug.

DINOSAURS

We have discovered a great learning tool mainly for the young but especially if you have an interest in Dinosaurs, Astronomy, Butterflies, Sharks, Whales, Rainforest and a few other things - go to :-

TALKING OF DINOSAURS

Did you know that there is a dinosaur museum not so far away—Sauriermuseum Aathal. This is on the road from ZH to Uster direction Wetzikon. Open Tuesday through Sunday, 10.00 to 17.00. Your editor will visit this display and report back.
